WE RESPECTIVELY DEDICATE THIS VOLUME OF THE ACADEMY HERALD

TO

CARROLL P. BAILEY, M. S.

WHO HAS SERVED AS
INSTRUCTOR OF SCIENCE FOR EIGHT YEARS
AND ALSO AS

SENIOR MASTER FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS.

HIS LOYALTY TO GOULD AND
HIS SINCERE INTEREST IN THE STUDENTS ARE DEEPLY APPRECIATED.

A TRIBUTE

Forty-two years ago Dr. Frank E. Hanscom became principal of an unknown, one-building academy. With him were one full-time and one student teacher. But the small Gould Academy did not die or fade. Her leader, with keen foresight, guided her through the years step by step, overcoming all difficulties.

Now, as we view the one hundred and three years of Gould's existence, we see that Dr. Hanscom's thirty-nine years of careful guidance have contributed greatly to our present achievement. Through his leadership, the one wooden building was transformed into seven larger ones; the faculty of three broadened into a faculty of thirteen; and the small academy has become one of the outstanding academies in New England.

With the deepest gratitude we dedicate our largest and most important building, which stands on the site of that first one erected so long ago, to him—the pilot through our rougher years and on to smoother ones. May "Hanscom Hall" serve as long and well as he, whose guidance it commemorates.

THE NEW HOLDEN HALL

HOLDEN HALL

A new boys' dormitory is being built to replace the present building, Holden Hall, the gift of Liberty E. Holden of the Class of 1853. The first Holden Hall was dedicated in 1909. Mr. Holden, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, also gave the former principal's home—at present Mr. Hanscom's home. Holden Hall served as a dormitory for both boys and girls until the building of the Students' Home in 1925.

The new building, a gift from Mr. Bingham, built on the corner of Church and Summer Streets on the site of the Twaddle homestead, is designed by Randolph Evans, architect; and the construction is being supervised by Robert Gleason, engineer of Barr and Lane, Incorporated. It consists of two wings, one 127 feet long and the other 104 feet long; and is two and one-half stories high. The main and infirmary entrances on Summer Street have concrete steps with wrought iron railings.

The architecture is severe New England Georgian in style. The outside walls are twenty inches thick, with asbestos wool insulation. The floors and roof are of aerocrete construction, and the roof is covered with slate. The trim will be white, and the green blinds and the small panes of glass in the windows will carry out the colonial design.

The building will house forty-four boys in eleven double and twenty-two single rooms. There will be suites for three masters, and a bedroom for the master coming in at night for supervisory duties. Besides the boys' and masters' living quarters, the first floor contains an office; shower room; a recreation room with facilities for pool, ping pong, and smaller games; a combination library and reception room with a small kitchenette and a guests' retiring room; and an infirmary consisting of two two bed wards, a bath, a serving kitchen and a nurse's room. The second floor is given over to living quarters for twenty two boys and two masters. In the basement, in addition to the rooms for trunk storage and janitor's supplies, there will be room for drying athletic equipment, an athletic equipment store-room, a hobby room equipped with work benches for the use of the boys, and a room for storage of skis and bicycles, which may be reached by an outside ramp.

The floors in the corridors and recreation room will be of rubber tile, with linoleum to be used in the boys' rooms. The furniture will be made of maple, of a dark honey color, colonial in design, and absolutely plain.

The building, to be dedicated at Commencement, will be opened for occupancy at the beginning of the fall term in September, 1939.

Anne Ring, '40

ALUMNI FIELD

The new athletic field, another manifestation of Mr. Bingham's generosity, was built during the summer of 1938 on the site of the old athletic field; which was acquired in 1922 by various means, including gifts by Mr. Bingham, money raised by the students of the Academy, gifts from the Alumni, and on land which was bought from various citizens of Bethel.

The construction of this field, involved many difficulties such as the moving of 20,000 cubic yards of earth with approximately 10,000 cubic yards of top soil obtained from the land below the field, and 10,200 square feet of sod were used to surface the field. The grade at the south end had to be lowered 13 feet. Some work still remains to be done around the edges of the field, together with the usual levelling and rolling common to new construction.

This field will be used for track, football, and baseball. A backstop will be erected outside the track in the northwest corner of the field. The distance from home plate along the left foul line to Church Street is 270 feet, with practically unlimited space in right and center fields. There will be three jumpings pits built for the running broad jump, high jump, and pole vault, together with the shot put circle. The javelin and discus events will be held on the lower land on the west side of the field.

The new cinder track, which is one of the fastest in the state, was built with a bed of cinders approximately ten inches thick. This track is 15 feet wide except for the straightaway of 150 yards which has a width of 20 feet.

New bleachers, built in sections four tiers high and accomodating 400 people, have been ordered to augment the present bleachers now in use.

The girls' athletic field, behind the principal's home, has been widened so that the field will be approximately 300 feet by 250 feet. Two new tennis courts, adjoining those in the rear of the Marian True Gehring Students' Home, will be surfaced with an asphalt compound, which will make it possible for them to be used both early in the spring and late in the fall.

A BRIDGE OF MEMORIES

Among so many recent memories, let us bridge the happy summer and pick up an older one—the Commencement of 1938.

Who could forget that rainy Sunday afternoon made shining by Dr. Frank E. Hanscom with his sermon on the subject of "Crises in Life"! Miss Ruth Leavengood and her Girls' Glee Club, and Mrs. S. N. Blackwood's beautiful bowl of flowers also added much to this service.

Thursday morning, June 9, holds much to be remembered, too. While the orchestra under the direction of Prof. A. E. Mainente played the "Commencement March," we took our places in the gymnasium. Then the morning's program was opened with the invocation, given by Dr. Herbert T. Wallace. Helen Crouse delivered the address of welcome, and the Twentieth Century Club Banner was transferred by Royden Keddy to the president of the Junior Class, Dana Brooks. The beautiful State of Maine Flag, which is so familiar to us now, was the gift of the Class of 1938; presented to the school by Edward Robertson, and accepted by Mr. Ellery C. Park, Treasurer of the Board of Trustees. Following this was music by the orchestra and a violin solo by Edward Caccavo.

And now comes a host of memories—in fact a Tower of Memories. This play, "The Tower of Memories," by Walter Bissell and Miss Leavengood, was splendidly performed by the Senior Class. It brought back to us one hundred and two years of Gould Academy's existence, and was accompanied by slides of former scenes and some of the men to whom Gould owes much.

After the Valedictory by John King, the following honors were awarded.

Name engraved on Honor Shield:

John Robbins King

Scholarship Cup:

Class of 1938

Election to National Honor Society: Royden A. Keddy, John R. King, Nancy C. Philbrook, Edward N. Robertson, E. Keene Swan

Scholarship Shield: John King, Lydia P. Ntceros, Isabel S. Tuell

Medals for outstanding work in athletics: Helen E. Crouse, Edward N. Robertson

Medals for outstanding work in debating: Nancy C. Philbrook, Bryant C. Bean

Medal for outstanding work in dramatics: Bryant C. Bean

Medal for outstanding school citizenship: Norman E. Johnson

The diplomas were conferred, and the benediction was given by Rev. M. A. Gordon.

The Alumni Luncheon was held in the Marian True Gehring Students' Home with over two hundred present. The guest speaker was Professor Brooks Quimby of Bates College, who gave a very interesting talk on "Consumers and Producers."

In the afternoon there was an exciting and evenly matched baseball game between Gould and the Alumni, which finally ended in a tie of 5-5.

At 8:30 that evening the Senior Reception was held in the Gymnasium. The Becker Collegians furnished the music and we enjoyed ourselves till 12:00 o'clock, when the dance and the school year were over.

I hope that this bridge of memories will remain strong, and give you good service for many years to come.

CLASS WILL—1939

We, the class of nineteen hundred thirty-nine, being of sound mind and body (we hope), do make, publish, and declare this, our last will and testament. Class bequests:

To the faculty, we leave the institution.

To the Juniors, we leave all our debts.

To the Sophomores, we leave our prowess in athletics.

To the Freshmen, we leave our places on the honor roles, and our brilliancy in general.

To the Junior girls, we leave Carl Tucker.

To Mr. Bailey, we leave an automatic window washer.

To Mr. Fossett, we leave the undisputed right to get rid of all bad weather.

To Mr. Combs, we leave a furnished apartment. Congratulations, Mr. Combs.

We take from Mrs. Leonard the most brilliant class she has ever had, French III.

To Mr. Bowhay, we leave our collective speeds and best ranks in typing. Can you use them?

Individual bequests:

I, Gladys Clark, leave my liking for marshmallow sundaes to "Jamie."

I, Helen Gillis, leave my seat in Chemistry to anyone who wants a good sleep.

I, Edward Hawkes, leave the school only one remaining Bird.

I, Doris Pierce, leave my manner of chewing gum to anyone with a contented look. "Cud" you beat that?

I, James Tyler, leave my calmness to Mary Jodrey, to be used at basketball games.

I, Maynard Austin, leave my height and haircut to David Kirk.

I, Margaret Bennett, leave my good nature to "Than."

I, Martha Bennett, leave my collection of bugs, snakes, and turtles to Violet Kasregis; she likes them!

I, Russell Bennett, leave my quietness to Jack Haines; he needs it.

I, Sylvia Bird, leave my whispering ability to my sister, Madelyn; not that she needs any more!

I, Dana Brooks, leave all my ambition to Carl Tucker.

I, Maurice Brooks, leave all my interests in Gould to Grant Sullivan.

I, Parker Brown, leave all the girls to Irving Cummings.

I, Virginia Chapman, leave my good behavior to Lucia Packard.

I, Enid Cloukia, leave my violin to Muriel Hall. One for each hand, Muriel!

I, Richard Crockett, leave European History to "Sid" Howe.

I, "Teddy" Cummings, leave my position on the football team to "Blaze" "Rugged" Bartlett.

I, Florence Deegan, leave being late every morning to Eva Deegan; just to keep it in the family.

I, Priscilla Duckworth, leave all mirrors to "Lib" Smith.

I, "Lizzie" Field, leave my giggle to George Gameson.

I, Marjorie Fish, leave my good times to Francine Warren.

I, Herbert Foote, leave to Romeo Baker the sole right and privilege of selling ads to all ladies' dress shops.

I, Arlene Greenleaf, leave my struggles in Geometry to all unsuspecting persons who pursue that study next year.

I, Barbara Hall, leave playing for the Boy's Glee Club to Kathryn Davis.

I, Don Holt, leave my ability to play football to my brother. Let's hope he uses it!

I, "Judy" Kasregis, leave some new alibis to "Betty" McLaren; to be used in case of sleep-walking.

I, Mildred Kasregis, leave Gould with my twin, Julia.

I, Evelyn Kimball, leave my neatness of dress to Jeanette; it runs in the family.

I, Myrtle Lancaster, leave my ability to argue to "Betty" McLaren.

I, "Rasty" Littlehale, leave school.

I, Anne Logofet, leave my speed in talking to Mrs. Leonard. Don't let it get out of practice.

I, Helen Lowe, leave my ability to play basketball to "Betty" Runyon.

I, Alden Marshall, leave my speed in walking to Bruce Scarborough, to assist him in reaching English class on time.

I, Dwight Morrill, leave my ability to pull the wool over the teachers' eyes to someone whose initials are N. B.

I, Laurice Morrill, leave my car to my brother, Robert. Confidentially, Robert, it's a two-week repair job!

I, Lydia Norton, leave my sister, "Herbie." I pity you folks for the next three years.

I, Raymond Ripley, leave my "Daniel Boone complex" to David Holden.

I, Mary Robertson, leave the family name to be carried on by my two brothers, Henry and "Billy."

I, Rita Salls, leave charge of the lunch room to the next unlucky person Miss Bailey chooses.

I, Clara Silver, leave my duties with the bass drum to underclassmen.

I, Josephine Smith, leave my ability to play basketball to Ruth Walker.

I, Virginia Smith, leave my gift of gab to Hope Bailey.

I, Beatrice Stearns, leave school quietly.

I, "Mike" Thurston, leave any blondes that may enter the Academy next fall to Jack Haines. More success next time, Jack!

I, Archer Waterhouse, leave my ability to mind my own business to Grant Sullivan.

I, Kathleen Wight, leave my position as timekeeper to Helen Williamson, and hope she will have better luck keeping the watches wound.

I, John Larsen, leave my interests in the park to anyone who wants them; and I, "Bobby" Lyon, leave with him.

We, June Little and Rodney Wentzell, not wishing to leave each other to someone else, leave together.

We regret that, due to the current depression, we can spare no more.

We declare this our last will and testament, to go into effect on the thirty-first day of May, in this year of our Lord, nineteen hundred thirty-nine.

JUNIOR NOTES

Dear "Babs,"

So your folks have finally consented to let you come to Gould. I'm giving three cheers and a tiger, and I'll have the band and the mayor out to welcome you when you come. So that you'll know what you're letting yourself in for, I'll tell you briefly about your new class members to-be.

First, of course, is Irving Brown, the class president, whose lack of dignity in office is made up for by a spinach fed sense of humor. Sidney Howe, the vice-president, is the only student who never groans over the length of the assignments. The reason is—he's always asleep! Althea Parker, the secretary, is so valuable to us that she has to have a body-guard walk to school with her. Last, but say not least, is our own honest treasurer, Kathryn Davis, who very carefully guards the class wealth. She is also the girl with the speaking eyes—the only one in captivity.

CLASS OF 1940

Among other notables are the men of brains plus brawn, the sturdy athletes—all spinach-eaters except Carl Tucker, who trains on potatoes. Carl is an all 'round athlete; the popular he-man type—who makes Gable a washout—because his ears don't stick out. Earle Palmer, the basketball center, is a handsome lad with a tooth-paste ad smile. Gardner Smith has been a hero in sports, and he has started a collection of letters and medals to be handed down to posterity.

Among the girl athletes present are Ett and Kath McMillin—the spectacular sisters from Lover's Lane. Virginia Davis is our tall, dark, and handsome basket-ball center. Madelyn Bird played guard until she landed on crutches as a result of a skiing accident.

Our musical artists include Mary Buck, who can play French songs; Ruth Bull, who has a trumpet and a desire to play; Nathaniel Bartholemaei, who plays the bass horn, the drums, and can even bang out harmonious bits on the piano. Bruce Scarborough, our ex-cowboy, who rides horse-back sitting down or standing up, couldn't sing to the cows so he took up trumpet playing; and now plays in the band and orchestra. "Maddy" Hall, she of the varied 'hair-dos' plays the clarinet, and I mean plays it! Gurdon Buck is another trumpet fiend; and then there is Henry Haley, the lad with the musical laugh. You can always find "Hank" chortling over his own jokes.

Besides some already named residents of the girl's dorm who will be your pals, I hope, are: Muriel James, who is probably the only girl in school who can wear one of the funny looking hats without looking as if she were in the wrong institution; Jean Cameron, who always looks as if she had done something—which she probably hasn't; and Marilyn Howe, who introduced wooden shoes to Gould. "Lib" Smith, who does bending exercises before breakfast, and Betty McLaren, who doesn't do bending exercises, room together—but do their arguing in the corridors. Esther Pike, who is always talking about last week-end she was home and the next one she's going home, and Janet Payne, who has a way of getting herself invited out, are two girls who spend many week-ends elsewhere. Clara Waterhouse is usually to be found on skis, showing the others how it's done. Beatrice Canwell seems to be reading her shorthand for the fun of it.

In the boys' dorm are: Robert Angel, whose name does not fit his personality, always busy finding someone to bother; Everett Gavel, the lad who knows just what to do in his leisure time; Minot Clapp, who calls all radios by their first names; and Dale Cloukia, the guy with a cheerful smile for everyone—even his enemies.

From the far off places come "Blaze" Bartlett, in the new spring colors, and Bob Billings, who raises potatoes—and prize-winners, too! George Stearns drives a car-load of girls to school, including talkative Barbara Cummings and quiet Erma Richardson—the reason she is so quiet is she doesn't have a chance to talk.

David Roberts is the demon of the road in his car, and David Kirk and Lee Hutchins tear along on bikes in snow and rain.

From another part of the country come "Bud" Paine, whose car belongs to the Temperance League and who likes to catch his shut-eye in class, and Myrtle Lapham, the life of the party during the noon hour.

Alida Verrill is part time librarian and, like the books she tends, is silent, but contains a great deal of wisdom. Jeanette Kimball is one girl who has never decided to start to reduce tomorrow. Edna Young always knows the answers, but sometimes has trouble getting them out.

Sherman Williamson is a boxer who eats statistics three times a day. "Stubby" Wheeler played on our class team in basket-ball, and he doesn't hide his light under a bushel. Richard Crockett never says much but actions speak louder than words.

Last and least comes your little news-hound, Anne Ring, who has had to postpone writing a thousand page novel in order to give you the low-down on the Juniors—and don't say I didn't tell you!!

Your snooping reporter signing off,

The Junior Editor

SCHOOL NOTES

Gould Academy began its 103rd year on Tuesday, September 13, 1938, with a record enrollment.

Mrs. Eugenia Leonard of Fort Worth, Texas, replaced Mrs. Kitchin in the French department. Mrs. Leonard is a graduate of the University of Texas, and received her M. A. degree at Columbia University. She has also studied at the University of Mexico, and spent two years in France studying at the Sorbonne and the Alliance Francaise. Mrs.

Leonard taught in Fort Worth, Texas, and served as part-time teacher at the Lincoln School in New York City, before coming to Gould Academy.

Another new teacher was Miss Frances Feagin of Birmingham, Alabama, filling the position of Dramatics teacher, formerly held by Miss Leavengood. Unfortunately Miss Feagin was with us but for a short time, and her place was taken by Miss Dorothea Shute of Northampton, Massachusetts, who, however became seriously ill and was unable to continue. Miss Mary Soule of Augusta, Maine, is now filling the position. Miss Soule is a graduate of Gorham Normal School, and received her P. L. I. degree at Emerson College in Boston. She has studied in the graduate school of the University of Maine, and for the past four years has been instructor of Speech and Dramatics at Cony High School in Augusta, Maine.

Mr. George Bowhay of Pelham, New York, fills a new position on the faculty as instructor in Freshman Algebra and Commercial Arithmetic. Mr. Bowhay received his B. M. E. degree at Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam, New York, and has also studied at Columbia University. He was a member of the varsity basketball and baseball teams at Clarkson, and has assisted in the coaching of these sports at Pelham High School, Pelham, New York. Mr. Bowhay has assisted Head Coach Anderson in basketball and baseball.

A second newly created position in Sophomore English and World History is filled by Mr. William Soule of Augusta, Maine. Mr. Soule received an A. B. degree at Bowdoin College, has done graduate work at Boston University, and attended the summer session at Bates College last year. He was a member of the varsity football and track teams at Bowdoin, and has assisted Head Coaches Anderson and Fossett in these sports.

Mr. Philip Clark was elected to teach Civics and English. Mr. Clark, of Portland, Maine, graduated from Dartmouth College, having received his B. A. degree there. He was a member of the varsity baseball team at Dartmouth, and is now Assistant Coach of baseball at Gould Academy. Before coming to Gould Academy, Mr. Clark was a teacher and athletic director at Belvidere School, in Lowell, Massachusetts.

The class of '39 welcomed the class of '42 with a reception in the William Bingham Gymnasium on Tuesday evening, September 27, 1938. Those in the receiving line were: Principal and Mrs. Philip Sayles; Dr. and Mrs. George Farnsworth; Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hanscom; Senior Master, Carroll Bailey, and Mrs. Bailey; Dean of Girls, Margery Bailey; and the president and secretary of the Senior Class, Dana Brooks and Mary Clough. The music was furnished by Lord's Orchestra.

A football rally, in anticipation of the game with Fryeburg the following day, was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium on Friday evening, September 30. Coach Anderson acted as master of ceremonies, and gave a short pep talk to the student body; assisted with cheers and songs by "Rastus" Littlehale, "Than" Bartholomaei, Anne Logofet, and Claire Tebbets.

Gould Academy held its annual Homecoming Day on Saturday, October 15, with a large number of parents of both boarding and day pupils attending. An exciting football game with Norway provided excellent entertainment; and after the game, the parents were invited to a tea in the Marian True Gehring Students' Home. Mrs. Philip Sayles and Miss Margery Bailey poured, and were assisted by various members of the women's faculty. Miss Sarah Staples supervised the arrangements for the tea. A tea dance was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium, with music by the Gouldonians.

On Saturday, November 5, the Boys' Dormitory sponsored a Football Dance to denote the ending of the football season of Gould Academy. Clever skits, written and enacted by the boys, proved to be the most entertaining feature of the evening. Cider and cookies were sold as refreshments.

The Dramatic Club had a special treat in store for us on Hallowe'en night. They presented, under the direction of Miss Feagin, "The Ghost Story" by Booth Tarkington. Preceding this entertainment, the dormitory students enjoyed a special Hallowe'en supper.

Friday, November 11, a program was conducted in observance of Armistice Day. Clinton Estabrook, of the Sophomore Class, sounded taps. A forum discussion on peace was presented by the members of the Speech classes. The views and opinions of outstanding persons concerning peace were quoted.

The school Christmas party was held on the Thursday evening before Christmas vacation. A play, dealing with the different Christmas customs of France and the United States, was presented. The play had been written by the third year French class. After the play, dance music was furnished by Lord's Orchestra, and candy was served.

The Boys' "Y" staged a successful climax to the annual Winter Carnival with a Carnival Ball in the William Bingham Gymnasium. The ball was held in cabaret style with many of the guests seated at tables around the dance floor and many in the balcony. The main decorative feature was a life-size skier in action, made by John Larsen of Marblehead, Massachusetts. The figure was placed against an evergreen background at the back of the stage. Green and white streamers, running from the balcony upward to the center of the gym, accentuated the color scheme. Freddie King's orchestra of Berlin, New Hampshire, furnished music, and refreshments were served during intermission.

A new club, the Camera Club, has been meeting this year under the direction of Mr. Bailey. The object of the club is to become familiar with the parts of a camera, learn the essentials of developing, and, of course, to learn how to take better pictures. The officers are as follows: President, Romeo Baker; Secretary, Irving Brown; Treasurer, Herbert Foote.

Reverend Bull spoke in Assembly on Friday morning, March 24, on the significance of Lent. His speech was interesting and enlightening, and many of the students, as well as members of the faculty, gained a clearer understanding of the true meaning of Lent. One rule that he gave for keeping Lent would well be worth quoting here: "Read good books, think deep thoughts and be a friend!"

Mrs. Mary Chaplin, former matron of the Students' Home for nine years, passed away on April 7, after an extended illness at her home in Rutland, Vermont.

Due to changes which the girls' dormitory must undergo this summer, graduation will be held on May 31st, leaving the longest summer vacation Gould students have ever had.

STUDENTS' HOME

Hi, Ho, everybody, and this is not Rudy Vallee either! This is your demon de luxe, news hound a-la-phooey on the trail of a red hot scoop. I'm supposed to tell yuh who's who and what for, so fellow "studes," here goes!

Residing side by side on third floor, to keep peace and order (well—order anyway), are Miss Simpson, who keeps us chilluns reminded that George Washington did something besides chop down that cherry tree, and that John Hancock did not pitch for the Boston Red Sox; and Miss Lundy, who shows us how to operate on everything from crayfish to common ordinary everyday frogs, to see what makes the wheels go round.

First on the "Hit Parade" of students are Betty Runyon and Janet Payne, those gals of the glamorous week-ends. Their room is a study in geography, as it is papered with advertisements of everything from the Normandie and Queen Mary right down to any old row boat on the Androscoggin. Thinking of going somewhere, girls?

Next door is Muriel James, whose room is a novelty to her as she is never in it. "Jamie" has the pioneer spirit—always camping out. It must be the gypsy in her.

Next in line is Libbie Smith, our red-headed riot, who rooms with Betty McLaren, another titian haired lassie. These two are a three ring circus deluxe. Ask Lib about the book she is writing.

Now I introduce Marjorie Alvord, our little Mickey Rooney fan. Never mind, Marj, we understand, but what are yuh gonna do about Judy Garland?

Nope! We're not seeing double. It's just the Kasregis twins, Millie and Judy, who look more not alike than anyone we know. Judy is our future Florence Nightingale, but Millie isn't so anxious to see what makes us tick.

We seem to be taking them in pairs so here is Gretchen Brooks, our blonde Paderewski of the piano; with her room mate, Lucia (Always In Trouble) Packard, who is out to give Helen Wills Moody some stiff competition on the tennis courts. More power—gals.

The last room on the right is occupied by Hazel West, who would be recognized in Grand Central Station by her harmonious (?) giggle; and Helen Waterhouse, whose smile would "launch a thousand ships." These Helens, you know.

Across the hall and working back are Pat Laverty, our little financial genius (she saves pennies), and Rachel Field, another member of the Red Headed League. These two prove the saying that opposites attract.

And now, fellow sufferers, we meet Shirley Sim, that cutie from Peabody, who keeps all us gals posted as to what is being worn in the jewelry line. Shirley specializes in novelty pins. Her room mate is Althea Parker, who just knows she'll be a success as a social worker because she has attended so many teas.

June Chipman and Betty Littlefield live next. Betty is quiet (?) until she gets on a dance floor, where she can "shag" with the best of them. As for June—she couldn't be cuter!

The last of the "studes" on the third floor is Martha Bennett, that yodeling yodeler from Magalloway. Martha is content at any time with a good guitar and "Home on the Range."

Going down to second floor, we visit Mrs. Leonard, our cow-less cow gal from Texas, suh. She's the one who makes us learn all the French rules, and then sets out to show us the six thousand exceptions to each of them.

Miss Hanscom is the next favored schoolmarm, and she puts us gals through the old "one-two-three" in the gymnasium on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Miss Soule has the not much envied job of teaching us how to walk, speak, and breathe correctly. Some assignment.

Next door is Miss Stevens, who, according to that old adage, teaches the girls that the quickest way to a man's heart is via his stomach. The completion of her course in Home Economics eliminates all possibilities of burnt toast mornings. Good news, boys!

Miss Burris is next and has this little lady got rhythm! However, this time we mean those tapping fingers which type out the ranks so efficiently. Esther's theme song is "The Week End of a Private Secretary."

Finally, while we are on the subject of teachers, comes Miss Bailey, our beloved Dean. Miss Bailey, besides her regular math classes in school, holds classes in Algebra, Chemistry, French, and English, nightly, for the rest of us. Her theme song should be "You're So Very Necessary."

Miss Staples is the "mama" of the dorm. We rush to her with everything, from a splinter in the left little finger to a broken collar bone, and she patches us up. She is always on hand with her ever ready thermometer.

The line up of "studes" on second floor is headed by Lynnie (Breathe Deeply) Howe, who is seen, any frosty morn, out making us other skiers look like punks. Lynnie is also an acrobatic studier. Her room mate, Ann Andrews, is the gal who runs around mornings chirping, "It's time to get up;" to which everyone politely responds,

"Thank you," and promptly turns over for a final snooze.

Next door is Violet Kasregis, that amiable bundle from heaven, who is always willing to take your office duty on a moment's notice. You'll be rewarded some day, Vi.

And here is a "bicarb" for all those in the vicinity of Liz Field's and Ruth Bull's favored domicile. Ruth, our master of the trumpet, will continue her tootin' all summer; and by next year, she'll be able to get right in the groove and rip off "Sugar Blues." (I should talk.) Liz is the gal who takes her Chemistry with a grain of salt. Any lab period, Liz may be found up at the ventilating hood with a tall blonde gentlemen from Lockes Mills.

Anne Logofet, Gould's own Hedy Lamarr, is lucky enough to have a front and back door to her room. (What will they think up next?) Anne is thinking of installing air conditioning and television to go with those doors.

Carroll Gay, the little girl with the big vocal cords, lives next. Carroll is another movie fan; and her room is an art gallery of the highest degree, taken in everyone from May Robson to Baby LeRoy. Entertaining, eh-what?

The next room is in nautical attire and has everything except an ocean. (The ocean will be provided after the next flood, if you insist on perfection.) The two fish who live in this salty atmosphere are Len Gillis and Gladys Clark, both land lubbers at heart. (Tsk! Tsk! Such fakers!)

Next door, we have the famous residence of Esther (Bowdoin) Pike and Clara (Vivacious Lady) Waterhouse. Clara, our outdoor girl, believes in plenty of good old oxygen, but Esther is definitely not a fresh air fiend. Fight it out, gals.

Mary Buck, our little gardener, lives next with Bea Canwell, an early riser.

Bea gets up at the crack of five, which is still the day before to me; while Mary experiments with plants for her own amazement.

Now we introduce Myrtle Lancaster, who, incidentally, keeps me supplied with gum; and Marna Bennett, who proves the adage that "still water runs deep." Marna seems aloof, but we know better.

And now students, we meet Jean Cameron, that popular li'l gal who gets phone calls from all over ye olde U. S. A., so it seems. Her room mate, Enid Cloukia, may be found on hand at all mail deliveries, waiting for that certain letter from Magalloway.

A real scoop for you now, my honorable subject flunkers! We have at last arrived at the famous abode of "yours truly" (who may be found any evening after seven wondering who wrote "Ode to a Nightingale"—Keats or Benny Goodman) and my favored room mate Priscilla (Duckie) Duckworth (who wouldn't know either).

Room 30 is about the smallest space this side of Heaven. No kiddin, to take a deep breath in this room is suicide, and to smile is foolhardy. We get in and out with a chisel; and on a clear day we have a swell view of a tail-less Jeep and a white plush duck.

This concludes this year's "Hit Parade" so, as the man said when he ordered the gravy, "I think I'll take it on the lamb."

HOLDEN HALL NOTES

Well, old Holden Hall's time has come at last, and she must give up her beloved children to that new and admired upstart—the new boy's dorm. However, if peals of laughter and the slamming and banging of good natured fighting that have seeped through her weary walls signify anything, her last year must certainly have been the merriest. Now may I introduce to you the reasons why:

Beginning with my roommates, we meet Ed Hawkes, a delver of books, which, incidentally, is the reason for his rarity about the campus; and George Adams who, despite a tendency to bel-low and grumble, is well liked by us all.

Across the hall from our domicile we find Mr. Myers and his happy little family. Mr. Myers is in charge of the dormitory.

Now, crossing the "rec" room, we find a happy little colony at the back of the building. Virgil Adams, one of our efficient waiters, rooms with a newcomer, Dick McFee. Dick, bright and outspoken, quickly established himself as a regular fellow among the boys.

In the next room are Clapp and Angel. Imagine an angel in the dorm! Poor Bob must surely have lost his way if he really is an angel. Clapp, the talkative tinker, can always be found in his junk shop, amid a haze of solder smoke.

Henry Haley and Everett Gavel keep company in the corner room. Henry has an heroic trait that one should never question. Take my word for it and never call a bluff that he might make. His roommate, "Geef," appears to be shy and quiet, but is well liked because of it.

Then come "Nick" Amato and Gameson. Nick has been dying all fall for winter to come so he could start dying for spring when he might at last go out for baseball; the only sport there is to him. His roommate, Gameson, on the other hand, is more general in his desires. He has visions of great athletic attainment in all sports.

Next door is the estate of Mr. Combs, and across the hall are "Shorty" Blanchard and Herbie Foote. One having what the other hasn't and vice versa, they make an ideal pair and are always seen together.

Upstairs we go and, still at the rear of the Hall, we find tucked away in a corner room another master—Mr. Clark.

Across from him are Erik Brown and roommate Jack Haines. Erik keeps his physique for skiing by wrestling all comers during that fifteen minute period before "lights out." Squealing and frolicking with delight, Jack has a spontaneity of mirth that can be quite refreshing, if not raucous. Seriously, though, despite this unsuppressed exuberance, we all believe that 'Jackie' really has a large future.

We also harbor a couple of hermits back here by the name of Ripley and "Gramp" West. Their hideout is well fortified; for only thus can they enjoy snatches of comparative tranquility between attempted visits by their neighbors.

Rooming by himself is Richard Harri-gan, a man of two extremes. When not studying hours on end, he can be about the most uproarious clown that ever roamed these halls.

It is a pleasure to mention Alden Marshall, because, we all must confess that he has the sole distinction, among us, of having once been introduced to some sort of etiquette, at one time or another. At least, he has more than most of us show.

Elaborately furnished with rows of imposing encyclopedia, this next room is the study chamber and laboratory of two freshmen, Sim and Sullivan. Evidently they wish to make something of themselves by being thus different from the rest of us.

And now, Gould's own poet laureate,

Clinton Estabrook. Clint, although versed in many fields, swings a mean trumpet, and is best known to us for his fine playing—as he proved, to our pleasure, last Armistice Day.

In the next room,—whoops! that is the bathroom; so let's skip by to the infirmary, where we might possibly find Dave Holden, holden' onto his tummy—provided he had received his weekly box of candy the preceding day. When out of candy and not in the throes of debate, Dave rooms with Earl Barlow. As Earl hails from the coast, he is only content when hidden away in his room surrounded by his models and drawing of boats.

Across the hall, rooming with Milton Cameron is Russell Bennett. A tall shadow, meek and docile, Russ is seldom seen and never heard.

"Than" Bartholomaei, one of the more suave, debonair, and gallant figures of Gould, goes through his day with a flourish; but winds it up along with the rest of us—humbly seeking his cot at 9:30.

Protruding from the next cell, we come upon "Gnome of the North" Ed Miller, of Andover. His pleasant little roommate, Dale Cloukia, can be found at almost any time trying to follow in the footsteps of Sandow the Great, the famous strong man.

Let's skip down stairs for a moment as 'Tuck' and 'Bucky' were out when we went by. We find Carl Tucker sleeping on unconcernedly, despite the ravishing cries of the fairer sex. Book-Bug-Bucky has dropped his book for a moment and is dreaming of the nice spring days when he can play baseball—if the snow ever melts.

Before we climb the stairs to the last outpost, known as Nigger Heaven, let's say "hello" to Mr. Bowhay and Mr. Soule—unfortunately charged with the task of keeping order on the second floor.

We are now in "Heaven", and, as you might suspect, we meet Charlie St. Thomas, the adonis of Holden Hall. Charlie has been lost in a wilderness of women since his arrival here. Quiet and reserved amid the turmoil of the Hall, roommate Bud Runyon is deservedly popular—in both dorms.

Bill Bull is truly a fine little fellow. Quiet, at times, and very unassuming, he is a natural athlete and can rough it with the best of them, despite his microscopic size. Roommate Jim Tyler, the Waterford scholar, can always be heard tooting happily in his room from school time until the mess call rush.

Rooming with Lewis Littlehale is Jimmy Shields, our hardworking mailman. Speaking of appetites, Jimmy can outlast ex-champ Tucker on anything set before them.

And now, last and least, rooming with Vernon Bennett, we stumble upon the Magallowayan midget, Floyd West.

Well, that completes the cradle roll; but before I finish I should like to offer a few apologies to the ones above that were sacrificed for the sake of a little fun.

There is, however, one other person who deserves to be drawn and quartered, as the rest have suffered; but as he is the witless scribbler of this article he goes free. I'm just bursting to tell you all the nice things about him but, as modesty forbids it, I'll just sign myself:

John Larsen, Jr.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

The student body of Gould, as well as the teachers, were very much pleased with the talk and demonstration conducted by Chester Soucek, representative of the Underwood Typewriter Company. Mr. Soucek, brought here through the courtesy of the Lewiston and Portland offices of this company, brought out in his talk the five essential qualities which the successful typist must acquire. After these introductory remarks, he demonstrated on the Underwood by writing several tests at varying speeds.

One particular part of this demonstration, which amused his audience greatly was his imitation of the average typist learning to typewrite. He showed several of the ways in which these beginners waste time and motion; and then finished by writing at the same rate with perfect rhythm.

Mr. Soucek is a former World's Amateur Champion, and also competed in the National Professional Championship Contest at Toronto, Canada, last summer. In this contest he wrote at 134 net five-stroke words a minute for an hour, and had the highest accuracy rating of anyone writing in the contest.

It was a distinct pleasure for the Commercial Department to be able to present this very interesting and instructive demonstrator to the school.

A new socialized textbook has been secured for the Bookkeeping I class and, to date, the results are favorable. This course emphasizes two phases of training: first, the personal-use and social fields and later looks into bookkeeping for vocational use. The Bookkeeping II students are working on the Comprehensive Corporation Set.

This year the Shorthand II students have a new office practice book with work books. Each week one girl reports on a section of the book, and then projects are done in the work book. Office practice was started at the beginning of the winter term. The last six weeks will be spent in speed work.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Freshman Class began the school year with the largest number of girls, twenty-five in all. The first semester was spent in sewing; each girl making an apron to wear later. During the second semester they studied cooking, especially the preparation of foods for breakfast. First Aid and Home Nursing will be studied next; and they will finish the year with cleaning the cottage.

The Sophomore Class of twenty girls studied cooking during the fall term, especially the preparation of dishes for luncheons. They sewed next, and will study Home Management for the rest of the school year.

There are seventeen girls in the Junior Class this year. They have taken up sewing; and have also studied the preparation of luncheons, which were served in the cottage with members of the faculty as guests. Each girl acted in turn as hostess, waitress, and cook. They will study Home Furnishings for the remainder of the term.

The twelve girls taking Senior Home Economics studied dietetics, and prepared special foods for invalids. Part of the time was used to prepare dishes taken from the lists that the girls made out of things they particularly wanted to learn how to prepare. They sewed next, and will study Family Relationships for the remainder of the year.

MANUAL TRAINING

The ninth annual exhibit of the work done in the Manual Training Department was held March 23. There was a exhibit of projects this year; probably one of the largest and best ever shown at the Academy. The articles were varied and numerous, due to the large enrollment in the department. The entire enrollment was fifty-six; the Freshmen leading with nineteen members.

The Freshmen began their work with the usual required project; a nail box, or a knife and fork box. After the required projects were completed, the students had their choice of small articles they wished to make. A great variety of small projects such as: meat boards, knife racks, clocks, book ends, and many other useful articles, too numerous to name, were completed.

The Sophomore class was second in enrollment with seventeen members. The required project was a combination letter file, drawers, and bookends. The projects were soon completed, and then larger or more difficult projects were made, including: two tier table, Romeo Baker and Hartwell Blanchard; "Old Oaken Bucket" lamp, "Buddy" Clough and Garey York; book case, Robert Lowe and Earle Barlow; secretary and book shelves, Donald Cross and Clayton Crockett; "Old Pump" lamp, Philip Cummings and James Shields; book ends and lamp, Clinton Estabrook; miniature chest, Zelwood Gravelin; table lamp, Howard Grover; colonial clock, Charles Knight; bridge lamp, Robert Morrill; miniature "Grandfather clock," Harry Sanborn.

The thirteen members of the Junior class contributed well to the exhibit, both in quality and quantity of work. Their major projects were: Russell Bennett, book case; Robert Billings, clothes closet; Irving Brown, handy table; Gurdon Buck, piano bench; Lee Hutchins, book case; David Kirk, colonial smoker; Linwood Mason, colonial smoker; Edward Miller, upholstered foot stool; Raymond Ripley, gun cabinet; David Roberts, magazine basket; Bruce Scarborough, occasional table; George Stearns, magazine basket; Harold Young, piano bench.

Although there were only seven members of the senior class in the department, they exhibited many useful and well-made articles. Their projects were: Richard Crockett, candle holders and magazine basket; Theodore Cummings, wall shelf and occasional table; Edward Wheeler, wall lamp, colonial lamp, and smoking cabinet; Maurice Brooks, large writing desk; Dwight Morrill, card table, wall shelf, and occasional table; Archer Waterhouse, suitcase racks; Laurice Morrill, large writing desk.

Coach Anderson, "Bud" Runyon, and "Stubby" Wheeler have worked on new hurdles for the track of the new athletic field. Many other boys have assisted them in their spare moments. The members of all classes worked on glueing and nailing when the hurdles were put together.

SCIENCE EXHIBIT

This year the parents and friends who visited the Manual Training exhibit also greatly enjoyed the "Biennial Science Exhibit."

The exhibit was for the purpose of showing parents and friends what the classes in science are doing and what equipment they use.

In the Chemistry Laboratory students were doing individual experiments. The experiments were some that are done by the students in their regular classes during the year. Students at work in the laboratory explained their experiments to visitors and answered as many questions as possible.

In the Physics Laboratory it was impossible to have experiments performed; so the equipment was displayed. Some of the equipment, such as the photo electric cell, was in operation. The electrical equipment and the magnets were of great interest to the visitors. Also of interest was Minot Clapp's radio amplifier, which he made from parts of radios, telephones, and other odd pieces and operated by dry cells.

In the Physics Laboratory the Biology class had an exhibit of their projects. They also had some of the specimens used in their classes on display. They had a well organized exhibit which attracted the attention of the visitors.

The Camera Club had an exhibit of pictures taken by different members of the club. One of the better displays of pictures was a collection of weekly pictures by Gurdon Buck, showing the progress made on the new boys' dormitory. Romeo Baker, as a representative of the club, worked in the dark room printing pictures. He had a great many visitors who were very interested in learning of the procedure used in printing good pictures.

Mr. Bailey, also, had good attendance at his exhibition, in the lecture room, dealing with high frequency electricity. He performed experiments showing the properties of high frequency electricity; such as holding wires carrying a thousand volts and lighting a bulb by passing the current through his body. He explained how this was possible, and also explained some interesting things concerning electricity.

For those who had attended former exhibits there were new experiments and exhibits; and for new visitors, there were a great many things to learn about the science classes and their work. I feel sure that the visitors, as well as the students, enjoyed it, and that it was a success.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

In the Speech Department Miss Frances Feagin of Birmingham, Alabama, replaced Miss Leavengood, who resigned in July to accept a position in her home town of Coshocton, Ohio.

This year, instead of giving declamations in Assembly Hall, each student is required to attend a weekly speech class. Several programs were presented during the fall term by members of the Speech Department.

Under the direction of Miss Frances Feagin, the following Columbus Day program was given in the Assembly Hall with Anne Ring announcing the readings and speakers:

"A Little Boy of Genoa," by Francis G. Welkes

Part 1—Madeleine Hall

Part 2—David Kirk

Part 3—Myrtle Lapham

"A Dream That Came True," by Francis G. Welkes

Part 1—Lloyd Kennie

Part 2—Rita Salls

Part 3—Sherman Williamson

Part 4—Bernard Bartlett

"Columbus," by Joaquin Miller—Anne Logofet

"The Return of the Mad Sailor," by Sarah A. Haste—Herbert Foote

"The Simplest Thing in the World,"—Beatrice Canwell

On October 31st, the Dramatic Club presented "The Ghost Story," by Booth Tarkington. The play was directed by Miss Frances Feagin and the cast was as follows:

George—Romeo Baker

Anna—Marilyn Howe

Mary—Jean Cameron

Grace—Doris Pierce

Linnie—Priscilla Duckworth
Lynn—Lloyd Kennie
Floyd—Nathaniel Bartholomaei
Tom—Earle Palmer
Fred—Theodore Cummings
Announcer—Maynard Austin

On November 11th, at 11 a. m., the following program in observance of Armistice Day was presented:

Taps—Clinton Estabrook

Chairman—Virgil Adams

Armistice Day Proclamation of President Roosevelt, Virgil Adams

Excerpts from New York Herald Tribune Forum on Current Problems: "The Struggle for Peace Meeting"

Walter Lippman

Marion Colby

Herbert Hoover

Robert Angel

Louis Ludlow and Juan T. Trippe (Referendum and Air Defense)

Milton Cameron

Dr. Karl Menninger (Psychiatry)

Elizabeth Gorman

President Franklin D. Roosevelt

David Holden

Excerpts from Address by Cordell Hull to National Foreign Trade Convention

Lillian Leighton

Excerpts from Speech of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to House of Commons, Herbertina Norton

"The Foot-Path of Peace" by Henry Van Dyke Lucia Packard

"Prayer for Spiritual Union of Mankind" by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick

Wilbur Bull

On Wednesday morning, November 23rd, the following Thanksgiving program was presented, with Esther Pike as announcer:

"Thanksgiving History"

Hartwell Blanchard, Barbara Cummings, Ernest Gallant, Erik Brown, Ruth Bean, Earl Littlefield, Nicholas Amato, Philip Cummings, and Natalie Foster

THE SENIOR PLAY

"Pumpkin Pie," by Edgar A. Guest
John Haines
"A Country Woman's Thanksgiving," by Ethel Hinman Ruth Bull
"A Modern Thanksgiving," by Winifred Rich
Mary Buck
"Pilgrim Life and People"
Edna Young and Patricia Laverty
"History" Frank Upton
"A Thanksgiving Table," by Oliver Hen-
ford Kathryn Davis
"A Boy's Thanksgiving" Robert Billings

The third year French class, after having read "En Amerique" by Andre Maurois, wrote "En France;" a play showing a few of the differences between French and American customs. This was given during the Christmas party held in the William Bingham Gymnasium on Thursday evening, December 15th.

The Cast was:

Madame de La Fayette	Anne Logofet
Mimi de La Fayette	Barbara Moore
Monsieur de La Fayette	Murray Thurston
Guillaume de La Fayette	Wilbur Bull
American students in France
Muriel James, Doris Pierce, Priscilla Duckworth, Henry Robertson, Dana Brooks
Monsieur le Colonel Girard	Robert Kenniston

After Christmas vacation the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Feagin was filled by Miss Dorothea Shute of Northampton, Mass. A short time later, because of illness, Miss Shute was forced to resign and her place has been filled by Miss Mary Soule of Augusta.

As this goes to print, the Senior play, "Lady of Letters" by Turner Bullock, is scheduled to be presented on April 27th with the following cast of characters:

Susie Willifer	Claire Tebbets
Professor Gilbert Willifer	Dana Brooks
Julia Pace	Julia Kasregis
Henrietta, a maid	Virginia Smith
Mr. Creepmore, bursar of Southern Union College	Frank Littlehale
Stella McDonald	Anne Logofet
Adelaide Willifer	Arlene Greenleaf
Cornelia Lawrence	Lydia Norton
Richard Mays	Murray Thurston
Warren Ainsley	Robert Kenniston
Dr. Newberry, President of Southern Union College	Donald Holt
Winifred Shaw	Mary Clough

Adelaide Willifer, the "Lady of Letters," is the rattle-brained heroine of the play. She rarely does anything touched by common sense, but she never does anything that is not highly amusing. Her adventure into literature marks the peak of her career and this is the main incident of the play.

No one had ever suspected Adelaide of possessing literary talent—or any other kind of talent, for that matter; and there was a lurking suspicion that all was not well.

Adelaide was swept along on the tide of fame and was the lion of the hour in her community. The college gave her a special degree of "Lady of Letters," and the world was at her feet.

Then something happened and the truth was discovered. We find Adelaide, like a bewildered butterfly, facing the contempt of those who had heretofore praised her.

All members of the cast, under the skillful direction of Miss Mary Soule, are hard at work rehearsing. The play promises to be a success and a highlight in the dramatic achievements of Gould.

The Debating Club met each week during the winter term and during the first week of the spring term. The following are members of the club: Maynard Austin, Romeo Baker, Muriel Bean, Amy Bennett, Erik Brown, Wilbur Bull, Arthur Chayer, Gladys Clark, Barbara Cummings, Kathryn Davis, Priscilla Duckworth, Natalie Foster, Rosalie George, Elizabeth Gorman, Howard Grover, David Holden, Donald Holt, Fern Lane, Anne Logofet, Lucia Packard, Herbertina Norton, Lydia Norton, Betty Runyon, Murray Thurston, Ruth Walker, Kathleen Wight, Helen Williamson, and Sherman Williamson.

During the last few weeks of the season special instruction was given the sophomore and freshman debaters. Of this group, the following gave individual debates: Muriel Bean, Erik Brown, Wilbur Bull, Arthur Chayer, Rosalie George, Elizabeth Gorman, Howard Grover, Herbertina Norton, and Helen Williamson.

A debate was held on February 15 on the question: Resolved that the city is superior to the country. The affirmative was upheld by Romeo Baker and Anne Logofet, and the negative by Kathryn Davis and Murray Thurston. The decision, made by members of the club, was in favor of the negative.

On March 9 a debate was held on the question: Resolved that chain stores are detrimental to the best interests of the American people. The affirmative was supported by Murray Thurston and Sherman Williamson; the negative by David Holden and Anne Logofet. Robert Kenniston acted as chairman, and the judges were members of the club. The decision was 18-13 in favor of the negative.

MUSIC NOTES

The Gouldonians, in their second year of existence, had their first rehearsal on September 20th. After three weeks of rehearsals, the Gouldonians gave a tea dance on the afternoon of Parents' Day. On November 3rd, the orchestra played at the meeting of the Bethel Ladies' Club.

Because of the size of the orchestra, it was divided into two groups: The "Commanders" — Gretchen Brooks, Enid Cloukia, Herbert Foote, Arlene Greenleaf, Muriel Hall, Bruce Scarborough, Clara Silver, Grant Sullivan, and James Tyler; and the "Brigadiers" — Romeo Baker, Nathaniel Bartholo-maei, Madeleine Hall, Robert Kenniston, Earle Palmer, Althea Parker, and Doris Pierce.

On February 17th, these two groups gave a supper dance as a part of Gould's Winter Carnival, and from time to time they have given enjoyable music in the morning assembly periods.

At a general meeting of the Oxford County Teachers Association in September, the Girls' Glee Club sang a few selections. The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Mary Soule, will sing at the annual Baccalaureate service. The selections they will sing are: "The Green Cathedral" by Hahn, and "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" with words by John Greenleaf Whittier and music by Frederick C. Maker.

The Chapel Choir during its three years of existence has been a great help in the chapel exercises. The personnel of this year's choir includes:—Sopranos—Gladys Clark, Muriel James, Ruby Jewell, June Little, Anne Logofet, Barbara Lyon, Elizabeth Runyon, Shirley Sim; Altos—Mary Clough, Elizabeth Field, Arlene Greenleaf, Betty McLaren, Geraldine Stanley; Tenors and Basses—Nicholas Amato, Romeo Baker, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Bernard Bartlett, Jack Haines, Frank Littlehale, and Grant Sullivan.

This year Mr. Mainente has changed the orchestra to a band, which has rehearsals every Wednesday morning. The members of the band are: Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Dana Brooks, Gurdon Buck, Ruth Bull, Wilbur Bull, Virginia Davis, Clinton Estabrook, Jack Haines, Madeleine Hall, Madelyn Jordan, Robert Kenniston, Earle Palmer, Doris Pierce, Anne Ring, Bruce Scarborough, Clara Silver, Grant Sullivan, and James Tyler. The band provided music at the basketball game between Gould and Fryeburg, during the Winter Carnival. The band will also furnish music for the annual Commencement program.

GIRL RESERVES

Girl Reserve Officers

President—Mary Clough
Vice President—Marilyn Howe
Secretary—Kathryn Davis
Treasurer—Kathleen Wight
Program Chairman—Barbara Lyon
Music Chairman—Claire Tebbets
Worship Chairman—Virginia Davis
Membership Chairman—Anne Ring
Poster Committee—Anne Logofet, Virginia Smith
Social Chairman—Elizabeth Field
Reporter—Arlene Greenleaf
Refreshment Chairman—June Little
Faculty Adviser—Miss Margaret F. Stevens
Sponsors—Mrs. Marie Davis, Chairman; Mrs. Elsie Davis, Mrs. Barbara Lyon

On Thursday, May 6, 1938, at 6 o'clock, all the Girl Reserves met at the girls' dormitory and marched to the gymnasium for the installation of officers for the coming year. Miss Lucille Simpson, faculty adviser, awarded rings to the girls who had belonged to the club for four years, and pins to those who had belonged three years or less. To pass the time before the banquet was to begin, the girls danced. There were several guests present.

At the designated time the girls returned to the Students' Home for the banquet. The tables were decorated with apple blossoms and blue candles. Place cards were used for added attraction. At the head table were Mrs. Paul Thurston, guest speaker; Principal and Mrs. Philip S. Sayles; Sponsors—Mrs. Marie Davis, Mrs. Elsie Davis, and Mrs. Barbara Lyon; Mrs. Lorene Kitchin, former Girl Reserve Adviser; Miss Lucille Simpson, Adviser; and Christie Thurston, President. Jane Chapin led in singing, and customary speeches were made, including: Welcome to Guests, Sponsors, and the New Cabinet, by Christie Thurston; Response, Mary Clough; To Our Sponsors, Claire Tebbets; Response, Mrs. Marie Davis; To The Seniors, Mr. Sayles; Response, Patricia Goodwin.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Paul Thurston. She gave a very interesting and enjoyable talk on her trip to Mexico. She had some very beautiful souvenirs which were of great interest to everyone. This brought to a close a very enjoyable evening, leaving each girl with the desire to take a trip similar to hers.

At the first Girl Reserve Cabinet meeting of this year, Mary Clough, Kathryn Davis, and June Little were chosen as the three delegates from Gould to attend the Girl Reserve State Convention at Bar Harbor, October 7-9. At the convention last year Mary Clough was elected State Secretary of the Girl Reserves. Kathryn Davis was elected State Secretary for next year, when the convention will be held at Augusta. Miss Margaret Stevens, Faculty Adviser of the Girl Reserves, and Miss Margaret Lundy accompanied the girls.

On Thursday evening, October 27, after a supervised hike, all the girls in school who were interested in becoming Girl Reserves, the sponsors, the women teachers, and the faculty wives spent a very enjoyable evening in the gymnasium. They danced for a while, and then were divided into six groups with fifteen girls in each group. They were given a short time to decide on a stunt which they were to act out. One group had a very good pantomime of "The Tragedy of the Lighthouse Keeper;" another group had a "June Wedding;" two groups acted out nursery rhymes; and the remaining groups did charades. Immediately following these stunts, refreshments of hot dogs, coffee, and cake were served. After supper June Little and Kathryn Davis led the singing, and the meeting closed with the singing of "Follow the Glean."

The Girl Reserve initiation of new members was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium on Tuesday afternoon, November 22. The following cabinet members conducted the service: Mary Clough, Kathryn Davis, Elizabeth Field, Marilyn Howe, Barbara Lyon, Anne Ring, Virginia Smith, Claire Tebbets, and Kathleen Wight. Relatives and friends of the girls were invited to attend this meeting to see the following girls admitted to membership: Marjorie Alvord, Hope Bean, Muriel Bean, Ruth Bennett, Emma Blake, Gretchen Brooks, Gladys Clark, Marion Colby, Therese Coolidge, Barbara Cummings, Florence Deegan, Priscilla Duckworth, June Enman, Rachel Field, Aglena Garoway, Rosalie George, Elizabeth Gorman, Madeline Jordan, Evelyn Kimball, Jeannette Kimball, Patricia Laverty, Alzena Lord, Susie Lovejoy, Betty McLaren, Herbertina Norton, Lucia Packard, Althea Parker, Janet Payne, Doris Pierce, Betty Runyon, Shirley Sim, Ruth Walker, Helen Waterhouse, and Helen Williamson.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 14, the Girl Reserves met in the assembly room for a Christmas meeting. After the secretary's and treasurer's reports and roll call, the girls listed their hobbies, to be used for discussion at further meetings. Then the meeting was turned over to Barbara Lyon, program chairman. The following program was presented:

- I. Christmas Legends Gladys Clark
- II. A Christmas Prayer Virginia Davis
- III. Christmas Legends and Significances
Virginia Smith, Claire Tebbets
- IV. Christmas in Other Lands and Across the Nation
Gretchen Brooks Kathryn Davis, Marian
Colby, Helen Gillis, Julia Kasregis, Esther
Pike, Shirley Sim, Helen Williamson
- V. Christmas Candle Light Service
Barbara Lyon
- Candle Lighters: Muriel Bean, June Chip-

man, Betty McLaren, and Lydia Norton
Choir: Mary Clough, Virginia Davis, Elizabeth Field, June Little, Barbara Lyon, Anne Ring

The Girl Reserves held a meeting in the Assembly Room on Friday afternoon, January 20. The roll call and secretary's report were given. Elizabeth Field gave a very interesting talk on her trip to the Gaspé Peninsula.

Plans are being made for a meeting which is to be in the form of a "Dress Parade." All dresses "on parade" will have been made in the Home Economics classes of the school.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Y. M. C. A. had a very successful year under the leadership of Principal Sayles. At the first meeting the following officers were elected: President, Murray Thurston; Vice President, Sidney Howe; Secretary, Rodney Wentzell; Treasurer, Dana Brooks.

A delegation consisting of Maynard Austin, Nathaniel Bartholomaei, Bernard Bartlett, Dana Brooks, Theodore Cummings, Herbert Foote, Donald Holt, Robert Kenniston, Lloyd Kennie, Frank Littlehale, and Murray Thurston went to the Younger Men's Conference at Lewiston, accompanied by faculty members, Mr. Sayles and Mr. Bailey. The grand entertainment was surpassed only by the gracious hospitality of the city.

A very successful annual winter carnival was held on February 18, 1939. The event opened Friday afternoon with two basketball games. In the first game, the Gould Junior Varsity defeated the Fryeburg Junior Varsity by a score of 41-12. The Gould Varsity was then victorious over the Fryeburg

Varsity with a score of 40-21. There was an after-supper dance with music furnished by the Gould Academy Swing Band; after which the guests filled the Odeon Hall to overflowing for a showing of "Men With Wings."

The ski and snowshoe dashes and cross-country races were held on the new athletic field and behind the Students' Home. The jumping, downhill, and slalom events were held at Anderson's farm in the afternoon. Contestants in the various events placed as follows:

BOYS

Ski-jumping: first, Frank Littlehale; second, Richard Crockett; third, Sidney Howe; fourth, Irving Cummings.

Downhill (A): First, Romeo Baker; second, Elmer Runyon, John Larsen (tie); fourth, Irving Cummings, Henry Robertson, Rodney Wentzell, Dana Brooks (tie).

Downhill (B): first, Virgil Adams, George Adams (tie); third, Charles St. Thomas; fourth, Henry Haley, Buddy Clough (tie).

Slalom (A): first, Frank Littlehale; second, Erik Brown; third, Elmer Runyon, John Larsen (tie).

Slalom (B): first, Hartwell Blanchard; second, Virgil Adams, George Adams (tie); fourth, Buddy Clough, Henry Robertson (tie).

Cross Country Ski Race: first, Romeo Baker; second, Erik Brown; third, Irving Cummings; fourth, Edward Miller.

Ski Dash: first, Romeo Baker; second, Erik Brown; third, Edward Miller; fourth, Frank Littlehale.

Snowshoe Dash: first, Edward Miller; second, Elmer Runyon; third, Carl Tucker; fourth, Buddy Clough.

Snowshoe Cross-country: first, Elmer Runyon; second, Buddy Clough; third, Edward Miller; fourth, Lewis Littlehale.

GIRLS

Downhill: first, Kathryn McMillin; second, Clara Waterhouse; third, Rachel Field; fourth, Joyce Swan.

Slalom: first, Ruth Bull; second, Kathryn McMillin; third, Ethelyn McMillin.

Ski Dash: first, Joyce Swan; second, Rachel Field; third, Elizabeth Field; fourth, Ruth Bull.

Snowshoe Dash: first, Barbara Lyon; second, Ruth Bull.

Three-legged Race: first, Helen Lowe and Virginia Smith; second, Kathryn McMillin and Ethelyn McMillin; third, Mary Clough and Virginia Chapman; fourth, Francine Warren and Betty Littlefield.

The results show the Sophomores leading the competition for the Winter Sports Trophy with $66\frac{1}{4}$ points, the Freshmen second with $51\frac{3}{4}$, followed by the Juniors with $36\frac{1}{2}$, and the Seniors with $31\frac{1}{2}$. The high-point winners in the various classes are as follows: Girls: Senior, Barbara Lyon; Junior, Kathryn McMillin; Sophomore, Joyce Swan; Freshman, Rachel Field; Boys: Post-Graduate, John Larsen; Senior, Frank Littlehale; Junior, Sidney Howe tied with Carl Tucker; Sophomore, Romeo Baker; Freshman, Elmer Runyon.

The Carnival Ball was held in the gymnasium, Saturday evening. The gym was very attractively decorated in green and white. A large white skier on a green background, done by John Larsen, added much to the decorations. Excellent music was provided by Freddie King and his orchestra. Refreshments were served at the tables. Much credit goes to the various committees who helped to make the carnival a great success.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club, started this year, is an interesting and educational project. Its eighteen members, under the leadership of Mr. Bailey, meet every other Wednesday, and enjoy a varied program concerning elementary photography. The various members of the Club take turns leading these meetings, and slides are sometimes shown.

On Thursday, March 30, a group of snap shots was exhibited; and Romeo Baker demonstrated the printing of pictures, which was one of the useful things learned.

The officers of the Club are as follows: Romeo Baker, president; Irving

Brown, secretary; and Herbert Foote, treasurer.

We hope that in the coming years the Camera Club will prosper, and have an increasing number of members. Find your cameras, everyone!

Gould Has Successful Grid Season

With forty-four men out for football, and the team winning five games and losing two, the 1938 season proved successful. The mere fact that forty-four boys were participating in the fall sport proved to be a success in itself. However, the varsity teams played a fine brand of ball most of the season. The loss of Romeo Baker, Ralph Hatch, Stanley Harvey, Norman Johnson, Robert Kenniston, Frank Littlehale, and Eddy Robertson of the undefeated 1937 team, left a badly riddled nucleus for 1938. These men were all regulars, which seemed all the more distressing as the few experienced players assembled this fall. However, with Coaches Anderson, Myers, and Soule working diligently with the few veterans and many youngsters, a fairly formidable eleven was put in the field.

Gould 14, Livermore Falls 0

With limited time for preparation, Gould traveled to Livermore Falls for the opening game. Here the team clearly outclassed their opponents in all departments of play and brought home the first victory, 14-0. Captain Murray Thurston, Parker Brown, and Carl Tucker were outstanding in this opening game. Buddy Clough and Don Holt, shifted from line positions of last year, proved themselves to be capable backfield candidates.

Gould 20, Fryeburg Academy 6

The Gould eleven played greatly improved ball over the first game's performance, and gained a 20-6 victory over Fryeburg Academy. The entire team played good ball in gaining revenge on their rivals who blighted last year's undefeated season by tying Gould in a scoreless game. Score by periods:

Gould	7	7	6	0—20
Fryeburg	0	0	0	6—6

Gould 45, Milo 7

Gould Academy used twenty-four players to defeat Milo High, 45-7. The winners had an easy time, and the second string men saw plenty of service. The visiting team looked well-polished in their shifts, but did not live up to appearances when play started.

The starting backfield of Brown, Clough, Holt, and Tucker played good ball, as did also the entire line. However, three men stood out as especially effective in this game. These men were Ted Cummings, Gardner Smith, and Murray Thurston. The winners completed two passes for thirty and thirty-five yards, out of three attempts; while Milo made good two out of six for short gains. The first downs showed a 20 to 2 advantage for the local gridsters.

Gould 0, Norway 6

For the first time since October 21st, 1936, Gould Academy went down to defeat. On that day South Paris had pinned a 12-6 setback on the Academy team, and since then the local gridsters had rolled along without a setback.

Easy victories and over-confidence found the team unprepared mentally for Norway's fighting aggregation, who outplayed the local boys with a quick hard-charging line. A Gould fumble on the first play set the stage for Norway's quick scoring pass, which proved to be the only scoring of the day.

South Paris 20, Gould 7

Gould traveled to South Paris; and, though they played superior ball in the first period, and led 7-0, they faded out of the picture as Paris' gallant gang of fighters tied up the score, and then continued to put on the pressure. The loss of Parker Brown in the first period, and a series of tough breaks took all the starch out of the "Blue and Gold" pigskin toters, as South Paris finally won 20-7.

Gould 53, Hallowell 6

Gould Academy, with Don Holt playing stellar ball, walloped Hallowell to the tune of 53-6. The locals scored early in the first period to assume a lead to which they steadily added points as the game continued. Tucker dashed off a 65-yard run for a touchdown, and a pass, Tucker to Palmer for another touchdown of 50 yards, were outstanding plays.

Score by periods:

Gould	7	13	20	13	—53
Hallowell	0	0	0	6	—6

Gould 33, Berlin, N. H., 13

In a game featuring thrills and sparkling plays, Gould Academy made a great comeback to end their season with a nice 33-13 victory over Berlin, N. H. Tucker was the big offensive star, as he reeled off four touchdowns; one of them a 65-yard run back of a punt. Buddy Clough also starred on the offense, especially in the last period, as Gould rallied to score fourteen points.

Fifteen Men Received "G's"

The men who received the official "G" for football were: Dana Brooks, guard; Parker Brown, half-back; Buddy Clough, full-back; Irving Cummings, end; Ted Cummings, guard and tackle; Donald Holt, blocking back; Sidney Howe, tackle; Laurice Morrill, guard; Gardner Smith, guard; Captain Murray Thurston, center and tackle; Carl Tucker, half-back; Rodney Wentzell, end; Edward Wheeler, half-back; and Wilbur Bull and Alden Marshall, managers.

BASKETBALL

The Gould Academy Basketball Team was also very successful this year, winning 10 out of the 14 games played. The team got off to a bad start by dropping its first game to Gorham High, by one point; then it began to improve swiftly and broke even during the first half of the season; and then they really began to click, winning their last seven straight games. This fine record was hardly hoped for at the start of the season, and it proves that Gould had one of the finest teams, in its class, in this section of the state. The Gould team had two of the outstanding scorers, in this section, in Captain Rodney Wentzell, who scored 180 points from his forward position, and Earle Palmer, the rangy center who scored 172 points. Parker Brown, a veteran of three years varsity playing, Don Holt, Gardner Smith, and Harold Young were also important cogs in the Gould machine.

The following is the record for the season:

Gould	Opponent	Opponent
30	Gorham, N. H.	31
35	Oxford	33
34	Norway	40
29	Oxford	28
48	Mechanic Falls	17
18	Norway	23
39	South Paris	41
35	Alumni	28
34	Fryeburg Academy	28
54	Mechanic Falls	19
27	South Paris	20
58	Old Orchard	26
40	Fryeburg Academy	21
29	Gorham, N. H.	28

Front Row: left to right—Carl Tucker, Donald Holt, Harold Young, Earl Palmer, Gardner Smith, Rodney Wentzell, Parker Brown. Back Row: Coach O. H. Anderson, Buddy Clough, Robert Morrill, Wilbur Bull, Laurice Morrill, Hartwell Blanchard, Theodore Cummings, Mgr. Nathaniel Bartholomaei.

The following men were presented with the varsity "G" in basketball: Parker Brown, guard; Ted Cummings, center and guard; Donald Holt, guard; Earle Palmer, center; Gardner Smith, guard; Carl Tucker, forward; Captain Rodney Wentzell, forward; and Nathaniel Bartholomaei, manager.

Sophomores Win Interclass Tourney

In the Gould annual interclass basketball tourney the Sophomores, with a well balanced team on both offense and defense, won the interclass championship. The Seniors with Littlehale, the high scorer of the tourney, proved to be the toughest contenders. A game, in which the Freshmen upset them, proved their undoing, as the Sophomores dropped only one game, that to the Seniors; while the latter dropped one to the Freshmen and the other to the Sophomores.

The Sophomores' winning combination found Bull, Knight, and Lowe as forwards. Romeo Baker and Blanchard handled the center position in good fashion; while Phil Cummings, Clough, and Young performed ably at the guard positions. The members of the team will receive their numerals.

GOULD BALL CLUB COMPILES .303 BATTING AVERAGE

The Gould Academy Baseball Team of 1938 won eight games, lost three, and tied one; and, in so doing, compiled the remarkable team batting average of .303 for the season. Five regulars on the nine were responsible for this high average. Carl Tucker proved to be the batting champion with the almost unbelievable average of .513 for the season. Parker Brown with .367, Dick Crockett with .350, Norman Johnson with .338, and Eddy Robertson with .315 complete the quintet of sluggers. Rodney Wentzell batted in the three hundred class all season until the last two games, when he suddenly lost his batting eye and finished at .286.

In the pitching department, McFarland was the work horse of the season, pitching ten games, winning six, and losing two. Royden Keddy pitched in four games, winning two, and losing one. Don Holt, the third pitcher on the staff, saw service in two games.

The 1938 schedule and the results follow:

Gould	Opponent	Opponent
11	Gorham, N. H.	4
13	Norway	2
3	Fryeburg Academy	9
8	Livermore Falls	9
18	Norway	5
12	South Paris	4
5	Livermore Falls	3
17	Gorham, N. H.	5
16	South Paris	1
8	Bethel Town Team	3
2	Fryeburg Academy	3
5	Alumni	5
118		53

The team of '39 will find it hard to fill the shoes of the following regulars who graduated last spring: George Adams, Norman Johnson, Royden Keddy, Brooks McFarland, and Eddy Robertson.

TRACK

The Gould Academy Track Team, under the instruction of Coach Fossett, and his assistant, Mr. Combs, compiled a fine record by winning two dual meets with Norway and South Paris; and then placing third to strong Norway and Rumford teams at the county meet at Hebron.

The dual meet with Norway was very close, being practically even, going into the fifties, but Gould came through in the last two events to win 64-53. The scorers for Gould were: Captain Kenniston: first in discus, first in high jump; Robertson: first in 440 yard dash, third in 100 yard dash, third in 220 yard dash; McFarland: first in broad jump, second in javelin, second in 880 yard run, second in low hurdles; Johnson: first in shot put, third in hammer throw, third in discus; Grover: first in mile run, first in pole vault; Howe: first in javelin, third in broad jump; Thurston: first in hammer throw; Morrill: second in pole vault; and Bartlett: third in 880 yard run.

In the dual meet with South Paris, Gould had little trouble in winning 63-27. Norm Johnson was high point man with eleven points, while Hatch was close behind with ten. The scorers for Gould were as follows: Johnson: first in shot put, first in hammer throw, third in discus throw; Hatch: first in 100 yard dash, and first in 220 yard dash; Grover: first in pole vault, second in mile run; Howe: first in javelin, second in shot put; McFarland: first in 880 yard run, second in javelin throw; Holt: second in discus throw, third in 100 yard dash, third in 440 yard dash, third in javelin; Robertson: second in 100 yard dash, second in 220 yard dash; Kenniston: first in discus throw; and Thurston: third in hammer throw.

The County Meet at Hebron was exceptionally close since Rumford, the winner, and Norway were separated by one-half point, while Gould placed third. Mexico, South Paris, Fryeburg, and Mechanic Falls followed Gould, in that order. The Gould scorers were: Johnson: first in shot put; McFarland: third in 120 yard low hurdles, second in 75 yard high hurdles, and third in the javelin throw; Howe: second in javelin throw, second in shot put; Grover: tied for first in the pole vault; Kenniston: tied for third in the high jump, and fourth in the discus; Thurston: second in hammer throw; Hatch: fourth in 220 yard dash; and Morrill: fourth in the pole vault.

Through graduation in 1938, the team lost Ralph Hatch, Norman Johnson, Captain Bob Kenniston, Brooks McFarland, and Eddy Robertson.

WINTER SPORTS

This year, for the first time, a winter sports team was organized at Gould Academy. After a late start Coach Myers developed a team that really made a good record for itself in its six meets. In its first meet the team was beaten by the South Paris ski team. After that they swiftly improved and won dual meets from Norway, Mexico and Andover, and placed third at the Gorham Carnival, and second at the Waterford Winter Carnival. The team also had meets scheduled with Hebron and Bridgton Academy, but they were cancelled because of lack of snow. Romeo Baker was elected honorary captain, and the following were awarded the winter sports "G": Dana Brooks, Erik Brown, John Larsen, Frank Littlehale, Edward Miller, Bud Runyon, and Bernard Bartlett, manager.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The members of the Girls' Athletic Council, for the year 1938-1939, are as follows:

President—Barbara Lyon
 Vice President—Madelyn Bird
 Secretary and Treasurer—Mary Jodrey
 Senior Representative—Helen Lowe
 Junior Representative—Virginia Davis
 Sophomore Representative—Barbara Luxton
 Freshman Representative—Aglena Garro-way
 Manager of Hiking—Kathryn Davis
 Manager of Horseshoes—Lillian Leighton
 Manager of Basketball—Mary Clough
 Manager of Volleyball—Margaret Bennett
 Manager of Winter Sports — June Chipman
 Manager of Tennis—Marilyn Howe
 Manager of Baseball—Kathryn McMillin
 Faculty Adviser—Dorothy Hanscom

Horseshoes Manager: Lillian Leighton

Forty-one girls have reported for horseshoes and, after a few practices, class teams were picked to play off the tournament. This was won by the Juniors and the players on the winning team were: Madelyn Bird, Ethelyn McMillin, Kathryn McMillin, and Edna Young.

Hiking Manager: Kathryn Davis

Eighty girls completed the hiking requirements this year. As there was always such a large group to go on the supervised hikes, they were often separated and part of the girls went on bicycles. These girls liked to bicycle better than walk, and we are sure that automobile drivers liked it better when the groups were small.

Tennis Manager: Marilyn Howe

An elimination tennis tournament was played this fall, which was won by Lucia Packard.

Basketball Manager: Mary Clough

A large group of girls reported for basketball this year. After a few weeks of practice the "A," "B," and "C" squads were chosen. From the "A" squad the players on the varsity team were chosen; and the ten girls who played two complete games, making them qualify for full points and considered as varsity players, were: Margaret Bennett, Virginia Chapman, Mary Clough, Virginia Davis, Anne Logofet, Helen Lowe (captain), Barbara Lyon, Ethelyn McMillin, Kathryn McMillin, and Virginia Smith. These girls each received a small silver basketball as an award.

The following is the record for the season:

Gould		Opponent
20	Oxford	30
27	Oxford	27
24	Mechanic Falls	17
26	West Paris	12
27	South Paris	34
35	Alumnae	26
52	Mechanic Falls	22
22	South Paris	22

Helen Lowe was high scorer of the season, gaining 101 points for Gould.

After the varsity season ended, class teams were picked and the tournament played off. The members of the teams are as follows:

Seniors: (Captain) Helen Lowe, Mary Clough, Virginia Chapman, Virginia Smith, Barbara Lyon, Margaret Bennett; Subs: Barbara Moore, Sylvia Bird, Elizabeth Field, Lydia Norton.

Juniors: (Captain) Kathryn McMillin, Virginia Davis, Ethelyn McMillin, Kathryn Davis, Edna Young, Mary Buck; subs: Marilyn Howe, Madeleine Hall, Myrtle Lapham, Ruth Bull.

Sophomores: (Captain) Lucia Packard, Lillian Leighton, Francine Warren, Pauline Bean, Hope Bailey, June Chipman; Subs: Fern Lane, Mary Jodrey, Barbara Luxton, Joyce Swan.

Freshmen: (Captain) Betty Runyon, Patricia Laverty, Elizabeth Gorman, Herbertina Norton, Marion Colby, Aglena Garro-way; Subs: June Enman, Madeline Jordan, Hope Bean, Rosalie George.

In picking the class teams, the six best players were chosen, regardless of whether or not they were varsity players. When the games were played, no no varsity players on the junior and senior teams were allowed to play against the sophomores and freshmen. However, when the seniors played the juniors, both teams could use three varsity players. The freshmen were given a few points at the start of each game to handicap the upper classes. The Council made these changes in order that the games would be more evenly matched. The new rules were quite a set-back to the upper classes who were depending on their varsity players, but they made the players work harder. The games were more interesting to watch and the new system seemed to work out satisfactorily.

The seniors won the tournament, and the following girls were high scorers for their team: Seniors: Helen Lowe, 30 points; Juniors: Ethelyn McMillin, 44 points; Sophomores: Pauline Bean, 17 points; Freshmen: Betty Runyon, 13 points.

Gym Exhibition

On Thursday evening, March 23, the girls presented the following exhibition of the work that has been done in gym classes this year.

1. Entrance
2. Athletic Romp
3. "Coquette" (A Waltz Tap Dance)
4. Apparatus
 - a. Parallel Bars
 - b. Buck
5. Rounds (Tap Dances)
 - a. "Are You Sleeping?"
 - b. "Soldiers Brave"
6. "Hill Billies" (An Eccentric Tap Dance)
7. Relays
8. Freshman Dances
 - a. "Schottische Couple Dance"
 - b. "The Pirates"
9. Marching Tactics
10. "Boxing Clog"
11. Tumbling
12. Finale

The specialties were especially enjoyed, although the rest of the exhibition went off very well. "Coquette," a waltz tap, was very ably done by Edna Young and Virginia Davis. Their costumes were from the time of the "Gay Nineties." At the beginning of their dance, they were unaware of each other's presence, but after a short flirtation, they ended the dance as good friends. "Hill Billies," a hay-seed clog, was presented by a group of senior girls, and the "Boxing Clog," done by June Little and Virginia Smith, was another "one-round" match of two hardened fighters.

The finale started with a ballet dance which heralded the entrance of the Spirit of Gould (Barbara Lyon). As the lights went on the girls sang the Alma Mater and marched out singing the "Pep" song.

Volleyball Manager: Margaret Bennett

Because of the shortened spring season, it has been necessary to eliminate one of the spring sports. The Athletic Council decided that it would be best to have volleyball instead of baseball; because, at present, it doesn't look as if we'd be able to play on the field very soon. Class teams will be picked and the tournament played off.
